Are you color-lingual?

Introducing the PANTONE® GoeBridge™ COATED. The all-in-one guide for multimedia color translation.

Pantone's new coated guide allows designers and printers to bridge the language of color like never before. When you have 2,058 colors to choose from, it's important that you and your printer know exactly what to expect. PANTONE GoeBridge gives you a preview of each PANTONE color's CMYK equivalent and values for simulating them in both sRGB and HTML, so you'll never have to second-guess. You can even use the GoeBridge as a process CMYK selector. When each color expresses so much, imagine what 2,058 of them can do. Make sure your design and printing are on the same page by logging on to pantone.com/Goe

ACT pushed ODO

CHANGE IS NECESSARY FOR PROGRESS.

Absurdist and polemical, Dada preached the overturning of past cultural traditions and engaged with society in a novel way. As a reaction to World War I, it showed that art didn't need structure to have an impact. Anything went. And with 2,058 colors to add to your repertoire, the Goe™ System gives you endless opportunities to turn the world upside down and express yourself any way you choose.

Start a movement with 2,058 new colors

Set off change.

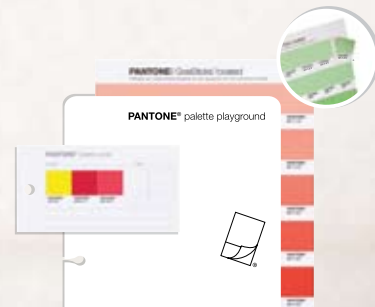

PANTONE GoeGuide coated As the driving force within the PANTONE Goe System, the GoeGuide makes expressing new ideas simple and exhilarating. The easy-to-use sequential numbering system and the intuitive chromatic arrangement make finding your perfect color a snap. To help inspiration flow more smoothly, the GoeGuide is printed on bright white #1 grade 100 lb text coated paper, the most common paper used on press today, and is presented in an extremely portable fan-guide format. Now you can push your ideas further than ever. Goe coated digital library is now available for Adobe® Creative Suite® and QuarkXPress®.

PANTONE GoeGuide uncoated The uncoated guide is now available to enhance your PANTONE Goe System.

PANTONE GoeSticks coated The adhesive backing on each GoeSticks chip allows cleaner communication between clients, designers and printers, while the palette playground and palette cards easily let your ideas run wild.

PANTONE GoeSticks uncoated The uncoated sticks are now available to enhance your PANTONE Goe System.

PANTONE Goe System Make your ideas move with chromatically arranged color, adhesive-backed chips and innovative new software. Add the Goe System to your existing PANTONE MATCHING SYSTEM® library and take your ideas from inspiration to innovation.
